

"The Republic of China New Atlas" published in China in 1933 treats the Senkaku Islands as part of Japan

Table with multiple columns listing geographical locations and their associated data. The table is organized into several vertical columns. A specific entry, "尖閣群島" (Senkaku Islands), is circled in red in the middle column. A white box with an arrow points to this circled entry, containing the text: "「尖閣群島・・・日」 (Senkaku Islands・・・Japan)".

「尖閣群島・・・日」
(Senkaku Islands・・・Japan)

The index of "The Republic of China New Atlas" published in China in 1933 indicates that the Senkaku Islands are Japan's territory